Armored Core 4

Hard mode:

Successfully complete a chapter to unlock the hard difficulty setting for any mission in that chapter. Press L1 or R1 to toggle between chapters and then press Square to switch between the normal and hard difficulty for any mission.

Easy money and schematics:

Select a good AC to start with then get to at least Chapter 3. Start fighting the sim ACs in the ACSIS menu. A good amount of money is given out per fight, and as a bonus you get the defeated AC's emblem and schematic. You can use the defeated AC schematics to defeat more ACs because you only need a buildable AC to start a mission, and not a sim. The only drawback is that you can only use AC schematics that can be tuned to a certain level. If you have enough points to tune the AC up then you can use it, otherwise it will be highlighted in red instead of yellow or white. You can also use schematics earned in the sim online.

Easy game progression and money:

For an easy-to-use, well balanced AC, start off with the TELLUS model when you begin the Single Player mode. This AC will have a weak machine-gun in its right arm weapon slot, and a powerful laser rifle in its left arm weapon slot. When you get to the menu screen where you can select the first mission, choose the ACSIS button on the right side of the screen to enter the AC Customization Garage. Open up the Weapon menu and select the arm that has the machine-gun. Scroll through available weaponry for that arm until you locate another laser rifle like the one equipped to your left arm and equip it. With these two laser rifles equipped, you will have plenty of firepower to take down just about anything that gets in your way. Taking out enemy MTs, Normals, and Nexts will be easy once you refine your piloting skills. Do the first mission, which is basically a chance for you to get a little combat experience and test out your AC in a real setting as opposed to the blue-toned AC Test area in your garage. After completing the first mission, many new parts will become available for purchase. However, your current model is still more than powerful enough to do all of the Chapter 2 missions. Save your money. Finish all of the Chapter 2 missions. Do not go on the Desert Wolf mission until you have finished all the others or you will miss out on cash and possible parts. More parts will become available, as will some units of FMS Memory for customization of your AC. Go back to the ACSIS. Go to the Assembly menu and find your generator. Scroll through until you find a generator with a capacity of about 90,000. Equip it. Then, scroll through further until you reach the stabilizer section. A window will appear with two options "Auto" and "Manual". Select "Manual", then scroll down to the "Tune" area. This will bring up the AC FMS Distributions menu. Find the section that has the area of "Generator Capacity" (or "EN Capacity"). Distribute as much of your FMS memory there as possible. If you have extra and you like to equip very heavy back weapons, add a few to your AC's load to increase the amount of weight your legs can handle before the "Weight Alert" warning appears and your mobility is greatly reduced. Save the changes to your schematics and go to the AC Test area. You will instantly notice that you can now Air Boost, Quick Boost, and Over Boost for much longer. This also means you have more energy to spare for your AC's laser rifles, so you can combine both quick flying and quick firing of your rifles very effectively. Another good way to make your AC even more daunting is to find a good-quality booster. Try to equip your AC with as many boosters as possible that have "efficiency" in their descriptions. The most powerful booster available has a boost cost that is highly disproportional. Look for the one that has slightly less boost power and about half its cost. This will make flying your AC even easier, and enable long-term flight. If done correctly, you can stay airborne for about thirty seconds, and Over Boost for about five seconds. To get more money, go to the Simulator menu of the ACSIS. You can take on multiple AC's one-on-one (the ones that your game displays whenever "Now Loading..." appears) for cash, FMS memory, and parts. They appear in packs of two to four. Not only will you get money for each individual AC you defeat, but you also get more cash upon completing an entire pack of enemy AC's, and usually five FMS memory, a new part, and occasionally a new pack. From here on out, you will have plenty of cash for your customizations. The best thing about the parts system is that you can buy a part from the shop and still sell it back for the exact price you bought it for. This means you can customize as much as desired, try different weapons on missions, and have absolutely no negative effects on your cash flow. The Icebreaker Defense and Water Gliding missions are especially difficult, and will probably require more than one attempt, but after finishing Chapter 3, you will receive even more parts, cash and FMS memory.

300 FRS Points, the easy way

Normally, after completing the normal playthrough and all simulator battles, a player should have 263 FRS points. To acquire the remaining 37, a player must S-rank each mission in Hard mode; however, there is a simpler trick to achieving 300 FRS points.

Requirements:

- Normal mode completed (this is a must)
- Simulator completed (have not checked, but better safe than sorry)
- Hard mode accessible (this is a must)

Now select a relatively easy HARD mode mission (for this, I chose Hail of Bullets) and proceed to complete the mission, achieving initially a rank of LOWER THAN S. Then, upon completion of the mission, replay the same mission, but this time, acquire an S-Rank on it, and you will receive your FRS point. Now you may repeat that mission, and for each time you S-Rank it, you will receive another FRS point, up to the maximum 300.

I have tested this on Regulations 1.10, and confirmed this works. Other tests done by other players confirm this works as well on Regulations 1.00.

This will allow players to achieve 300 FRS without having to S-Rank every hard mode mission.

Night Drop mission: Easy completion:

When you meet up with the French rebels you will have a choice to go left to the Flak 88s or go through the house to the right. Go left to the guns. Kill all the Nazis around the gun and in the ditch leading to the next gun. Then, blow up the 88 and move on to the rest of the guns. After you blow up all the guns you will reach the house that you would have had to take if you went right. When you go in the house you must defeat a Nazi that is standing there waiting for you. Kill all the enemies in the house and fall through the burning floor. You will see you allies there waiting for you.

The Island mission: Best gun early:

On the second mission, "The Island", there will be a man under the second bridge with a FG42 scoped. That gun will get more ammunition every time you kill someone. The gun starts with 96 ammo remaining and you can kill about 150 people with it (not including melee). After completing that mission you will have that gun on the third mission, but you must save the gun through the third mission to get it in the fourth mission and so on.

The Mace mission: Scoped FG42:

When you get to the part where you must keep the Nazis from the trenches, do not listen to the men. Go to the right and follow the path. You will find an FG42 scoped leaning on a crate.

You can hold your breath to steady your aiming (and thus hit on target), this is most useful during multiplayer matches when you are using a Sniper Rifle. You can hold your breath by pressing the L3 button.

After that, run away a short distance because he will release an explosion in the area around him. Elder Scrolls IV: Oblivion

Duplicate Items

First, you need to have more than one type of scroll, such as flare, hailstorm, etc. Go into your items and select that scroll twice (hit X twice). Then, go to the weapon/item you want duplicated and drop it. You will have as many duplicates of the item as the number of scrolls you had. Note: this cheat may not work for all items, but it does work with the majority of them. Also, do not duplicate too many at a time, as your frame rate will be so slow, you'd be better off restarting the system. I'd draw the limit at 40 duplicates at one time, but even then you will experience some lag.

Easy Kills In "Purification" Quest

While doing the "The Purification" quest for the Dark Brotherhood, use the following trick to easily kill some of the members in the sanctuary such as Ocheeva and Vincent. First, get your Disposition with them as high as possible, then sneak attack them with a dagger. Before they have a time to retaliate, propose a yield. You can attack and yield repeatedly until they are killed.

Making Stolen Items Authentic

When you steal items, most of the merchants will not buy them. Use the following trick to authenticate them. Get in the jail and escape. Take your items authenticated or pay for your days in jail and you will have the items authenticated again.

Easy Stealing

Get the Gray Fox's mask and put it on. Steal something and wait for the guards to tell you, "Oh, you are the Gray Fox. I'm going to kill you" (or something similar). Select "Resist Arrest". Then, go to your inventory and take off the mask. Exit the menu, then yield to the guard by holding Block and pressing X to talk to him at the same time. He should walk away. You will not have a bounty, and you will still have the stolen item.

Easy Athletics Skill

Get an enchanted amulet, ring, or other item you can enchant with Water Breathing. Make sure it is a constant effect. Equip the item with Water Breathing, then jump in some water. Swim to the bottom, then hold [Up] to keep swimming into the floor. Your Athletics skill will greatly increase in just five minutes.

Infinite Gold

Go to the Talos Plaza District of Imperial City and find a house owned by a man named Dorian (Dorian's House) in the southeast section of the district. Break into his house and find him. When he tells you to leave, kill him. Do not press X to loot him and take all. Instead, take each item individually, finishing with the gold, which will not run out once it hits 8 pieces. Just keep selecting the gold he is carrying and take it. Do this repeatedly, and the number of gold pieces remaining will freeze when it gets down to 8 gold pieces. It will not go any lower, but will just keep giving you as much gold as desired. Note: After you break in and he tells you to get out, talk to him. Go to "Persuade" and bribe him a lot. After that, kill him. He will now have more money to loot, which makes it easier to get more faster.

Elder Scrolls IV: Oblivion- Game of the Year Edition

Gold In Bruma

Go to the castle in Bruma. Go to the back of the hall and on your left there is a door that says service door. Unlock it and head down the steps. Around the corner there is a door on the left. Unlock it and there is a wastebasket next to the bed and dresser. Inside is 800 gold. Useful for money troubles. (Both doors are very easy)

Enchanted Arms

Easy money:

When you need a lot of TB (money), go to the casino and play roulette. Bet on one number to win 36,000 tokens. When you make 200,000 tokens, keep buying the God Ambrosia in the casino shop for 400 TB (3,600 TB for nine). Then, go to the real shop and sell all nine for 21,600 TB. 200,000 tokens will allow you to gain over 1 million TB. This will be useful after Phase 5 (Chapter 26 if you have the guidebook).

Easy tokens:

To get easy tokens, go to the casino and play the roulette game. You will have to make multiple bets. First, bet your 1,000 tokens on one number (preferably one that you are able to bet on all sides and corners). Then, bet on the four lines of that number and the corners. Next, bet on the column and the row; also the color and the number (even or odd). Finally, bet on the half of the board that number lies on. If the wheel stops on the number you will get the maximum amount of tokens you are able to win on one spin of the roulette wheel.

Everyday Shooter

Travel mode:

Successfully complete the game to unlock Travel mode. You will not take any damage in Travel mode.

F.E.A.R.

All levels:

Enter F3ARDAY1 as your profile name.

Saving Medkits:

Make a mark of some sort to lead you back on some Medkits that you could not carry before. If you so happen to run out of your own because of a big fight you can find them again. This is useful in Interval 11 with the armies of ghosts coming after you. Just make sure that you are able to backtrack to get the Medkits you left behind.

Use your Medkits at the correct time. Do not use Medkits immediately when you have about 70 to 80 health remaining. Try using a Medkit when your health drops below 30. One Medkit can heal up to about 30 to 45 points. If your health happens to drop below 40 and you are in a 1v1 or 2v1 fight, do not bother using a Medkit unless you really need to. Just run to cover while using your slow-mo abilities. Your health will regenerate slowly back to 40 if it drops below that, however you must be out of the firefight to regenerate your health.

Defeating Assassin Super Soldiers:

Because the assassins are difficult to see due to their camouflage and high speed running, try using slow-motion with L2. You will notice them immediately once they are slowed. After that, let all of your rounds into them.

If you do not have slow-motion (for example, in the bonus mission when playing as the demolition man), you must have a quick finger and a good eye to notice them running around. There are two ways to do this. The first is to toss a grenade to reveal the assassin for a certain amount of time. Hopefully the splash radius will either hit him or kill him. Note: The grenade has a two to four second delay before exploding, and correct timing is required. The second way is to wait until the assassin approaches directly in front of you. When he reveals himself, start firing at him.

Interval 04: Office Space reference

While making your way through the large office building, look for papers hung on the wall or scattered on desks. Many of these papers have "TPS Report" written on them, as well as a symbol including three boxes at the top. This is a reference to the popular movie Office Space in which the characters are involved with TPS reports at their office, Initech, which has almost the same logo as the symbol at the top of the papers.

As you are making your way through the large office building, about midway through the level there should be a large room filled with cubicles, with multiple offices on the side. One of the cubicles in the middle of the room has a lot of boxes piled into it, with a red stapler on the desk. This is in reference to the character Milton in Office Space. Management is always making him move his desk and using his area for storage, as well as stealing his red Swingline stapler. This can be found in the same area as multiple T.P.S. reports.

Labdog: Shogo: Mobile Armor Division reference

After the firefight in the gas pipes area near the exit point of the map, there will be a gas pipe on fire. Turn the object off in the next room, then return to the now extinguished pipe area..There is a semi secret walkway there. Walk in, find the ladder, and climb up. You will find a health booster, and there is a door on your left. Go into that office. Listen to the song. It is the main theme from Shogo: Mobile Armor Division. an anime FPS created by Mololith. Look at the dry marker board. It is the same one from an office level from Shogo: Mobile Armor Division.

Unlimited handgun ammunition:

This trick requires the dual handguns, all weapon slots full and at least one bullet for the dual handguns. Have the dual hand guns equipped and find a weapon you do not have in your inventory. This weapon must be on the floor, not leaning or on top of something. Hold Square to switch out the dual handguns for the new weapon, then switch back for one handgun then grab the other. You will notice that you have more handgun ammo. For example, if you had 1 bullet for both and you used this trick you should now have 2 bullets. If you repeat the trick, it will increase to 4 then 8, 16, 32, 64, 128 then the maximum of 200.

FIFA 08

Overall 99 player:

Use the following trick to get your player up to 99 a lot faster. Before you start, make sure that the player you want to upgrade is your arena player.

1. Save enough points to buy all the experience packs in the shop. This should not take too long.
2. Once you have enough, save it onto a second personal settings as well as your first.
3. Buy all the experience packs in the shop and save as normal. It should save to personal settings 2 and your squads.
4. Use all the experience points on your chosen player.
5. Save the game as normal.
6. Load personal settings 1.
7. Save it to personal settings 2 again.
8. The experience packs should now be available in the shop again, and you should have your points back.
9. Buy them again and save as normal. It should save to personal settings 2 and squads as before.
10. Use all the packs on your player again.
11. Save as normal
12. Repeat steps 6 through 11 and you will see your players overall climb until it reaches 99.
13. Once your player has an 99 overall, save and load personal settings 1.
14. Save it to personal settings 2.
15. Load personal settings 1 again.

Your chosen player will have 99 overall, you will still have all the points you had before to spend on whatever desired and have personal settings 2 there in case you want to do this again.

Ammunition

All the safe houses that you pay for have ammo caches. When low on ammunition or health, you can go into these houses and restock. They are the orange houses on the map, and most are in hotels.

Assaulting warehouses

Before going on a warehouse assault have these items: pistol (full ammunition), Tommy gun (full ammunition), shotgun (full ammunition), magnum (full ammunition), molotovs (6), and about $25,000. When going to a warehouse, try to blow up the roadblocks. After that, stand there and shoot at oncoming gangsters with your pistol (headshots are essential). Then, go in to the warehouse area. Stand behind boxes and shoot the enemies with the pistol or magnum (again with headshots). Once you enter the warehouse, have either your shotgun or Tommy gun ready. Most enemies will have shotguns and Tommy guns. When you kill them, search for the owner. He will have puppeteer hands. Buy him out. Do not hit or injure him or you will not be able to buy him out and will have to use pressure. More than likely you will have also started a mob war. Do not bother looking for bombing business. Instead, check the map for the nearest FBI agent and bribe him. You may lose $3,000, but it is less risky. You will now have a warehouse and won a mob war at the same time.

Getting past barricades easily

When you go to a hub, warehouse, or compound with people and cars blocking your way, get a truck and run into the cars and people until it catches on fire. Then, finish off the other people that are still alive.

When you go to a hub, warehouse, or compound with people and cars blocking your way, stand close enough that you can lock-on to a person. Take either dynamite or a Molotov Cocktail and throw it. It will blow up the cars next to the people. Continue doing this until you have reached the hub, warehouse, or compound.

This is the first disc-game (PlayStation, PlayStation2 and PlayStation3) that allows for the game to be played remotely via broadband with the PlayStation3 to PSP "Remote Play" feature. The game can be played with some limitations. Due to the difference in how the PSP's shoulder buttons are mapped they neither count as L1, L2, R1, or R2 effectively, rendering the PSP's L and R useless. In the game this results in the ability to lock on to enemies, slow down while flying, initiate a flying hover and to land on the ground as impossible actions. Although all flying in the game on the PlayStation3 is controlled via Sixaxis motion control, while playing on the PSP flight is much more simply controlled with the Analog-pad. If the player completes the first tutorial stage on the PlayStation3 (which requires use of shoulder buttons to complete simple objectives) the rest of the game can be played on the PSP if the player is so inclined.

Save money:

In the offseason when you are resigning free agents, there is a very effective way of saving lots of money for free agency without being cheap and changing stats. Instead of lowering and raising stats, just go to "View Roster" and convert all of your starters and closers into relievers. Resign all of them to small deals worth at most about $3 million a year. Once you sign them, change them back into their original position. It might not sound like much but if you have a $19 million pitcher like Johan Santana, it can be a lot of free cash. This will also work with turning slow players into the 2B or SS position and resigning them, or turning small players into the C or 1B position and resigning them.

Easy saves:

Put your closer in the game at the start of the seventh inning and use him the rest of the way.

Superstar mode: Better agent

Answer the interview questions as a team player. Then when you hire an agent, more of them will want to sign with you.

Recommended defense:

Try blitzing on first and second downs but not on the third down. Your opponent may be used to rushing his throws and throw the ball right into your coverage.

If you choose a 4-3 or a 3-4 defense against any team, select a play in which you blitz all your linebackers and have your defensive backs cover the receivers. This works about 90% of the time. You will average at least five sacks per game.

Choosing the correct parents:

When starting Hall Of Fame mode, certain parents will give you large boosts in key stats. If you want a receiver that is very fast, look for a hall of fame WR father with the note "He was the Randy Moss of his time". You should end up with 95 or higher speed. If you want a fast quarterback, look for a Pro Bowl or Hall of Fame QB father with the note "He was the Michael Vick of his time". You will be insanely fast and have good throwing power. Note: Do not chose a father with the note "He was his era's Tom Brady." He will be extremely slow (55 or less speed) and not be able to outrun anyone.

Avoiding injuries:

When you think one of your players may be injured on offense, hurry the play up and they will get back up.

Easy interceptions:

When on defense, switch to one of the safeties in a zone coverage and pick up on a receiver. Stay about five to ten yards away from the receiver. When the quarterback throws the ball to that receiver, run towards the receiver. Press Triangle when you get in front of the receiver, just as the ball is getting there.

Best Time To Use Hurdle:

Typically when you go against your rival, a tackler will try and go for your legs. About 50% of the time you are running with the ball against a rival, hurdle.

Better trophies in Dynasty mode:

When creating your schedule, make sure to add as many ranked teams as possible. Try to go against the #1, #2, or #3 ranked team the most.

Boosting GPA in Campus Legend mode:

A good way to boost your GPA is by doing extra studying. Some events like this are finishing a project in the library (+.4 GPA), fixing your computer for homework (+.2 GPA), or just studying when you have free time (+.1 GPA).

Easier prospect drafting in Dynasty mode:

When you first start the season, create a prospect and make sure to make his home state where your team is located. Then, talk to him on the phone about where he lives and the college being close. Most of the time, you will get a high ranking for that action.

Easy rivalry trophies:

Go to the "Play Now" screen, and select two teams that can play for a rivalry trophy (for example, Colorado and Colorado State). Then, go to the stadium and weather options, and change the quarter length to one minute. Play the game, but do not switch teams in the middle or you will not get the trophy.

Easy wins in Dynasty mode:

Go to the settings, and change the quarter lengths to overtime. If you win the coin toss when the game begins, choose to play defense. When you score a touchdown while on offense, always go for a two point attempt (unless you only need to kick a field goal to win).

Exporting senior to Madden 08 in Campus Legend mode:

When you begin your senior season and already have legend status, you will get the option of staying for your senior year or exporting your legend to Madden 08. If you stay, you will still be able to export your legend after your senior year.

Faster trophies in Dynasty mode:

Select a highly ranked team with good ratings (for example, USC or Michigan), and enter Dynasty mode. Simulate to the end of the season, and simulate all bowl games. You should earn two to four trophies depending on how well your team did. Then, save your profile, but not your dynasty. Exit Dynasty mode, and repeat as many times as desired.

Hiding endzones:

To make the endzones hidden, start a Play Now mode match. When you reach the field selection screen, set the game length to fifteen minutes, make the weather overcast cloudy, precipitation high, and temperature -20 degrees. If done correctly, in the upper corner should be a picture of a cloud with heavy snow. Start the game and by the second quarter there will be so much snow that the endzone lines and all other white lines will be gone.

Hook and Lateral play:

The Hook And Lateral play is in Boise State's offensive playbook under the "Hail Mary" section. It is labeled as "Circus".

Jumping the field:

When you are about five yards from the opponent's end zone, select a HB Dive as a play. As soon as the HB gets the ball, tap Square. You should now dive over the defenders and get a TD.

Max stats in Campus Legend mode:

Create a character with maximum stats. Then, start a new Campus Legend mode. Instead of starting from scratch in high school, load your created character.

Using injured players in Dynasty mode:

If you have any injured player(s) on your roster going in to a game, start the game as normal. After the kickoff, pause the game and select restart. Once the game has restarted, your injured player(s) should be able to play.

Hint - Defeat Crinale Easily

Use the following car and parts to beat the Crinale:

Soldat Raggio - Machine Class 1

Engine - Druaga

Nitrous - General Resource - Normal Charge

Tires/Suspension - Astaroth - Grip + 2

Plug in - Slipstream Booster (unlocked by getting 100Manufacturer points from Dig Dug)

Even with these settings, beating the Crinale can be extremely difficult unless you master the ultimate charge technique. Learn where he uses his Nitrous, dont worry about what level of charge it is. You should be fine with 1 until the end.

Coming around the final few corners, hit it with a double Nitro or triple Nitro boost depending on how many tanks you have filled. Get around him, and you've got him. I finished him off in about 3 tries with these settings. Good luck!

Hint - Defeat Crinale (ver #2)

You can defeat the Crinale with just about any car and settings. However, the only really critical setting is the nitrous. It must be set on General Resources Auto-charge. After this, it is a matter of patience.

Since he will stop a few feet away from the finish line to wait until you round the last corner, I stopped as soon as I finished my second lap to wait for him at the finish line. When he stopped, I crept up to him nose to nose and slowly forced him back and to the INSIDE lane.

DO NOT use nitrous to hurry this process up, as he will slide past you and finish the race anyway. You have about 6 minutes to push him as far back as possible, hopefully at least 7 to 8 car lengths past the stripe of light that crosses the track. This may take several tries as you may slide around him, but keep doing this as he will not move back to his previous position.

Once the "Time Left to Finish" pops up, turn around and run the last lap. After you pass the second to last corner, hit Triple Nitrous and you will be up to full speed when you round the last corner and he will not be able to react fast enough to beat you to the finish line. I beat him the first time I did this.

PS3 Cheat Guide/E-book/ Codes/ Hints!

Made by K_2016

k_2016@live.com

During this mission you are not limited to a set number of rings that you can collect. Collect as many rings as possible before reaching the goal, then wait for the results screen to appear. Once the results finish displaying, all the rings you have collected will be automatically sent to your ring account (although the game will not show you this). Pause game play and select "Restart" to begin the mission again. Keep repeating the process. If you can get at least 250 rings per try, you should have collected enough rings to purchase even the Rainbow gear within an hour or two.

The Gambler gear at the shop has an interesting secret. If you have bought it and take it on a World Grand Prix, you can earn 500 rings per race. If you finish in first place in the Grand Prix on top of that, you will get a total of 3,500 rings. Just three Grand Prixes will give you enough rings to buy the rainbow in exactly one hour. Note: You must know your courses well though, because the Gambler cannot take type shortcuts.

Defeating Michael:

When you are trying to open the boarded up windows, if you are far away from him he will do a long jump towards you. Then it takes him a few seconds to recover to attack. Before he jumps, do not stand in the yellow circles. Instead, stand next to the wall opposite the windows. He will now jump to there, recover, etc. While he is recovering, pull down the boards. When he jumps into the light, attack him. Keep doing this until his and his wife's life runs out to complete the level.

Easy kills:

Ending B (Normal): Have NSA trust below 33%, and save the cruise ship, Hisham, and Lambert. Alternately, allow two of the targets be destroyed but have NSA trust above 33%.

Ending C (Bad): Destroy all three targets. Alternately, destroy two targets and have NSA trust below 33%.

Kinshasa: Extended level

At the end of the ninth mission, Kinshasa, when you have a sniper to shoot Hamza Hishima do not shoot him. If you do you will complete the mission. If you do not, the crane you are on will fall down. Then Emile will yell at Sam for missing Hishima. Sam angrily turns off his radio and the level is now extended for several minutes.

Kinshasa: Secret tool

At the beginning of the mission you must go up a elevator. You will then get a checkpoint. When you enter this room, take out the guards. Make sure you are not wearing your sunglasses. When you walk in the next, big, room, the sun should be shining in your eyes. Flip your glasses down and you can see guards shooting out the windows you were looking at. Go to the right as soon as you walk in. Try not to draw too much attention. If you keep going to the right you will hit a window. An icon should appear at the bottom of the screen, indicating that you can use something. Press X and Sam will get out a small black tool, clip it on the window, whiz it around, then pull off a small circle that he has cut from the window. If you push forward on the window, Sam will put his legs through and squeeze through the hole so that he is now outside

Stranglehold

Defeating Wong and Dapang:

Use the following trick to defeat Wong and Dapang under the Hard and Hard Boiled difficulty settings. As soon as the checkpoint occurs (DaPang jumps down to you), run straight ahead and shoot the bottom right of the dragon statue. Almost always the statue will fall, killing Dapang instantly. You now have to be quick at this stage, especially on the higher levels. As soon as DaPang is dead you will have a few seconds to pick up the two paper cranes which fell after you destroyed the statue. Now at least five or six men will appear and run directly at you. Dodge them as best you can and make your way to the golden guns to the left of the statue podium. Trade in your weaker guns. You will now have 32 golden bullets. You will most likely have a shotgun. If you do not, grab one. Make your way to the far left or right. Take cover behind a pillar and wait for the remaining enemies to come after you. When they get within a few feet of you, press Left or Right, Tequila time will start. Kill them with one shot. Usually there is one remaining enemy that shoots at you from a distance. Ignore him. If you kill him, more enemies will appear. By now you should have or almost have a barrage bomb. Run upstairs and pick up a health pack if needed. As soon as you reach the top, Wong will start shooting, so you must be quick. Turn on Precision Aim. It is far stronger now that you have golden guns. Wong is weak against Precision Aim. Make sure you hit his head for maximum damage. While he is stunned, grab the paper cranes to the far left and right. Wong recovers quickly. Use Precision Aim every time you get a paper crane. There are two more paper cranes on the chandeliers. Swing on them to get them, but only do so after successfully hitting Wong. After you have hit Wong as much as you can with Precision Aim, he will still be alive, but have very little life. Turn on Tequila time and fire your golden guns. He should die in seconds. If you are skilled at throwing grenades, use them. However, they are slow and will leave you vulnerable.

Extra ammunition:

If you run out ammunition but have enough Tequila Bomb for the "Precision Aim", aim at someone and shoot. This will create 20 to 30 more rounds for the handgun. Always try to have a enough Tequila Bomb for "Precision Aim" in the event you run out of ammo.

Secret theater:

On the first level, after the second checkpoint when you are walking in the door take a right. You will see a damaged door. Shoot it and walk through the corridors. You will end up at a secret theater that shows two previews of games, The Wheelman and Blacksite Area 51. There is also a golden pistol, a paper crane, and a shotgun in the theater.

Take outfielders first because if somebody gets a hold of a hanging curve you want speed; glove; and if someone is in scoring position, a good arm. These are two groups of outfielders that have those attributes. These outfielders should improve your win percentage and increase your number of shutouts and no hitters for experienced players.

Easy experience:

Get to the room in the Cursed Cave where you must throw the skeletons into the barrier. Do not throw them. Instead, just kill the skeletons. They will keep respawning and you will be able to gain as many levels as desired

Vampire Rain

Defeating Monique:

There are two different forms of Monique that must be defeated. You will have to fight the first form while she is in the air. The best way to do this is to stay by one table and use the radar. Monique will jump in four corners shooting knives and jump kicking you. You must wait until she uses the jump kick then use the Verretta M82 when she lands on the table (or before). Make sure to duck behind the table or her knives will hit you. If you should get hit and your health gets low, disarm yourself and just sit behind the table where she cannot hit you for awhile and your health will start to replenish. If she shows up behind you while you are restoring your health, just move around the table and sit there until your health is fully restored. Once you hear her jumping, quickly pop up from behind the table and shoot her. This may take some time, but once you get her health down she turns into her second form. The second form is a lot easier. The four tables are still there, and can be used to your advantage again. This time Monique is on the ground and is no longer jumping in the air. She will throw her knives and charges at you. The best thing to do is to hide behind the table. When she runs away, quickly jump out and shoot her. When she throws the knives again, dodge them. Then as she starts to run to the middle, quickly hit her and she will charge at you. When she charges at you, step aside or she will slash you and take a lot of health from Lloyd. If she hits you, use the same health trick as before and stay fully loaded this time around. Keep using this method until she is defeated. Once she is defeated you will get the ending.

Frying Pan racket:

Get three strikes in a row in the Pin Crusher mini-game

Dodging missiles:

To dodge missiles faster, roll and flip in the air. This will work about 70% of the time.

Easy points in TDM:

To get easy points, go to a base that your team does not control. Stand next to the flag. You will see a bar appear at the bottom of the screen. If the other team owns this base, the bar will slip to the center (neutralize) and you will get 2 points. It will then slip to the other side filling with your teams color (gaining), thus giving you 2 more points. This process is easy and can get you 4 points in under twenty seconds.

Split-screen online:

When creating a game, turn the split screen on. During the game, press Start on the other controller(s) to activate split screen mode. You will all share your screen name.

Extra missiles:

When you get the single shot homing missiles in an airplane, you should only be able to get a total of three. However if you pause game play, wait about fifteen seconds, then resume the game, you should be able to pick up three more. This will only work up to nine missiles.

Updating stats:

Due to a server error (partly because of global servers), your stats usually will not update immediately. To see your stats, log off for four or five hours then log back on. Your stats should be updated.

Defend That Flag Soldier!

What's the best way to defend a flag, you ask? Mines, of course! The best way is to put 2 on the road/entrance by the flag, 1 near the flag, and 1 on the flag.

WWE SmackDown! Vs. RAW 2007

How to win every tag team match:

*Must be tag team match.

Can't be tornado tag.

If you want to win every tag team match, set the rules to "10 count" and "no dq". When your partner is fighting, go into the ring(fast). Then strong Irish whip your opponent out of the ring. Then keep beating up your opponent till 10 count. I would highly recommend to Irish whip your opponent a far off from the ring. Another good way is to drag your opponent till your sanity bar goes down. When it gets to 10 count, you win. This works every time if you do it right.
